IT'S THE RINOs, STUPID

We must stop pointing fingers at Marxist-leaning Democrats when often (although not always) it's RINOs who are hurting our nation. A few days before Christmas, Texas Republican Repre-sentative Chip Roy proposed an amendment to the U.S. House spending bill to defund drag shows and 'Pride month' events at the Department of Defense.

What could be more Republican? Duh—18 gutless "Republicans" voted with Democrats to kill this amendment.

Does your representative support pride month in the military?
See INFO-MEETINGS-EVENTS attachment for the Republicans who voted FOR allowing Pride events in the military.

What if there was a statue in Arlington National Cemetery that was applauded by both Democrat and Republican presidents as it emphasized our nation's post-Civil War reunification? What if 41 spineless Republicans joined with Democrats and voted to destroy the statue that is part of our nation's heritage?

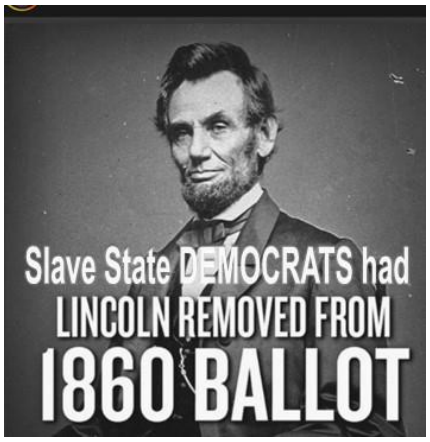
Scott Powell, at Townhall shared the background of the Reconciliation Monument:

(Republican) President William McKinley conceived of a Reconciliation Monument as a way of celebrating the success of a reunified nation that fielded an Army and Navy of enlisted men and officers from both the Southern and the Northern states who fought so effectively together that they delivered a surprisingly swift U.S. victory in the Spanish-American War of 1898. This theme of respect and reconciliation between the northern and southern states was also supported by the next three presidents—(Republican) Teddy Roosevelt, (Republican) Howard Taft, and (Democrat) Woodrow Wilson. They all believed in the importance of celebrating the reunification and reconciliation of America even though it was many years after the bloody and divisive Civil War.

Since (Democrat) Woodrow Wilson unveiled the Reconciliation Monument in Arlington Cemetery in 1914 proclaiming that, “the monument represented the best of America—a spirit reconciliation, democracy, freedom, heroism and patriotism”—hardly anyone voiced any criticism of this grand monument… In fact, most observers viewed the monument with reverence and awe. It captured the “e pluribus unum” first conceived in 1776 at the time of the writing of the Declaration of Independence and incorporated as a motto in the Great Seal of the United States better than any other monument in Arlington or elsewhere.

Does your representative support erasing our nation’s history?
See INFO-MEETINGS-EVENTS attachment for the list of spineless Republicans.

COLORADO SUPREME COURT HELPS TRUMP



Foolish Marxists applauded Colorado’s 4-3 Supreme Court ruling removing Donald Trump from the state’s primary ballot Several other blue Marxist states now want to follow. Now red states are looking to remove Joe Biden’s name from their ballots. Thanks to Colorado’s Marxist jurists:

- Jurist’s action again confirmed Democrat election interference.
- The Colorado GOP immediately announced it would switch from primary to caucus so Republican voters can decide who they want to be their presidential nominee.
- Republicans, Democrats, and Independents (even those who don’t particularly like Trump) chastised the jurists for interfering in the presidential election.
- Trump received millions of dollars in free media attention.
- Trump’s campaign saw a surge in donations.
- Victor Davis Hanson told Tucker Carlson:
  “No one has ever charged Donald Trump with a formal crime of insurrection, nor has he been convicted of it... I don't think a person can just arbitrarily pick some candidate and say, 'You know what? I think you're an insurrectionist.'”
- Writing in “By Trying to Keep Trump Off the Ballot, Democrats Are Staging a Coup in Broad Daylight” John Daniel Davidson shared (link below):
  If they get away with it, we’ll have democracy as it is in Iran or Russia, where only regime-approved candidates can appear on the ballot.

HOW TO DESTROY AMERICA: Step by step

The United States of America is disappearing before our eyes. A perfect example is Minnesota, now home to the largest Somali population in the West. The anti-America, anti-Semitic Representative Ilhan Omar represents that state. Omar is from Puntland, Somali, an "autonomous" region of Somali that is not recognized by the international community. You can always count on Omar to say or write something that has little to do with America's Judeo-Christian values.

Let's look at what happened with Minnesota's state flag. Some people considered the flag offensive to Native Americans. From an AP News story:

> One of the main elements of Minnesota's state flag includes a prominent state seal against a blue back- ground. The seal depicts a Native American riding off into the sunset while a white settler plows his field with his rifle leaning on a nearby stump. The imagery suggests to many that the Indigenous people were defeated and going away, while whites won and were staying.

So, in September the Democrat controlled state legislature had a state commission start work on designing a new state flag. That's fine … nothing wrong with updates. Now you tell me, does the new flag look like it is part of the United States of America or part of Puntland, Somali?

HAPPY NEW BIDENOMICS YEAR!

Bidenomics keeps on giving. As you read this sampling, ask yourself how many of the laid off workers voted for Joe "Big Guy" Biden? More importantly, how many will still vote Democrat in 2024?

> Ernst & Young (accounting) – The firm had already stated it would delay the start date for new hires. In early December, E&Y announced it would let go 10 percent of its partners in consulting and 4 percent of its partners in strategy and transitions. In April, EY made 3,000 job cuts across its U.S. businesses.

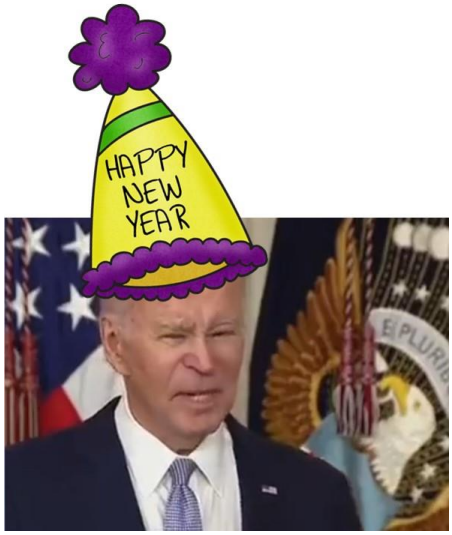
Etsy (technology) – Right before Christmas, CEO Josh Silverman informed employees that 11 percent of its total workforce (225 employees) would be let go.



General Motors (automotive) – Plans to lay off 1,300 workers as it pushes electric vehicles (that most people don't want). The Orion assembly plant in Orion Township, Michigan will say goodbye to 945 workers as they stop producing the Chevrolet Bolt and retool to manufacture electric trucks. Nearly 370 workers at the Lansing Grand River Assembly plant in Lansing, Michigan will be let go as production of the Camaro ceases.

Spotify (streaming) – started the merriest month of the year with CEO Daniel Ek announcing that an additional 1,500 employees (17 percent of its total staff) would be pink slipped. This was Spotify's THIRD round of layoffs in 2023.

State Street (financial) – CFO Eric Aboaf said the company plans to lay off about 1,500 employees.

Twilio (digital communications) – had a second round of layoffs in early December. About 300 employees (5 percent) of its total workforce were not going to be having much merry in their Christmas. This follows the 17 percent workforce reduction that occurred in February.

WHERE'S JOEY

On the DEMOCRAT side, 21 Democrats will be listed on the New Hampshire primary ballot next month and none of them will be Joe "Big Guy" Biden. Joey wanted the first-in-the-nation primary to be South Carolina, as a reward for saving his ass during the 2020 primary. (Do you remember during his remarks after winning the SC primary, Biden referred to his sister as his wife and his wife as his sister?)

However, New Hampshire Democrats would not budge on their unique status. So, Biden's name won't be listed. There's a PAC trying to convince New Hampshire Democrats to write in Biden's name. It will be fun watching Joey lose his first primary!

Also on the DEMOCRAT side, Democrats in Florida, North Carolina, Massachusetts, and Tennessee will not allow Marianne Williamson's name to appear on their state's Democrat party primary ballot. Democrats in those states can vote, but there's only one candidate listed—just how they do it in communist countries!

Finally on the DEMOCRAT side, the calls are getting louder for Biden to step down. Breakfast Club host Charlamagne tha God recently said:

> "See, the facts are, Biden is not getting any younger. He's not going to get any more popular, and he's not getting a new running mate. So, please, Mr. President, give America the ultimate Christmas gift and step down."

On the REPUBLICAN side, most political observers predict that Donald Trump will be the nominee. Now, the guessing game is "Who will Trump pick as his vice president?" Here's some of Steve Bannon's choices with our opinion.

South Dakota Governor Kristi Noem—maybe
New York Representative Elise Stefanik—maybe
Arkansas Governor Sarah Huckabee Sanders—she won't want it
South Carolina Representative Nancy Mace—NO!!!
Former South Carolina Governor Nikki Haley—NO!!!
Arizona senatorial candidate Kari Lake—she won't want it
Tennessee Senator Marsha Blackburn—maybe

CONSIDER THIS Something else to consider:

There is much leftist chatter that Joe and DOCTOR Jill Biden are very upset that Donald Trump is leading in all the polls. But, if the 2024 presidential election is a done deal due to Democrat shenanigans, why are Joey and DOCTOR Jill so worried?
